

REMS for adult education

An established, user-friendly student management system designed for adult education providers

Civica's Resource Education Management System (REMS) is a powerful, streamlined MIS that allows you to manage the complete learner lifecycle, whilst providing significant cost savings and efficiency gains.

Easy to use

With REMS, your staff are provided with a powerful yet straightforward, user-friendly system. A web portal is provided to allow staff to quickly enrol and manage students online. Academic staff can mark registers and access all the student information they need - this allows staff to spend more time focusing on students and less time administering their data.

Fast, simple implementation

REMS is a solution designed to meet the needs of adult education providers which can be used effectively without any customisation. The system can be installed and ready to use in as little as a week, with minimal disruption to learning or administration. Organisations are trained how to easily manage the system and, if needed, tailor it to meet specific requirements.

A flexible solution

To make sure the system is optimised for use in your organisation, REMS can be configured to meet the requirements of your staff and students. Interfaces and processes can be tailored to suit your existing procedures and workflows, with easy to use tools.

Secure, resilient hosting solutions

Civica has a strong track record in helping customers harness the full power of cloud, securely. We provide a full cloud service from readiness and migration to ongoing management and support of your system. Alternatively, REMS can be hosted locally by your organisation.

We know the sector

Civica has worked with adult education organisations for over 15 years and works with over 140 local authorities in the UK. We are aware of the unique challenges faced in adult education and deliver systems and services to support the needs of the sector.
