Accelerating your digital health maturity

Changing priorities in health & care today

In a landscape that's more challenging than ever, health & care providers are under constant pressure. You need to ensure positive outcomes for patients and clients in a climate of severe financial constraints.

While caring for an aging population and facing reduced budgets, you have to maximise income, control costs and increase operational efficiencies by re-defining care pathways and improving the use of resources. Through our long-term relationships with health & care providers, we've seen at first hand the challenges you're dealing with and how digital transformation can help resolve them.

Whatever your priorities, Civica can help

For more than 30 years we've been delivering solutions for health & care, drawing on the experience of our people and collaborating with health & care professionals.

We've developed business-critical software, digital solutions and managed & outsourced services that will enable you to drive improvements across clinical, financial and operational settings. Our focus is on getting the right information to the right individual at the right time, to help front-line services be more responsive, enhance patient and client pathways, increase workforce efficiencies and deliver essential cost savings.

With our help, you'll be able to deliver a comprehensive transformation programme to unify health & care.

Unifying health & care for better clinical, financial and operational outcomes

By applying our knowledge and experience with innovative digital technology and automation capabilities, we'll help you take a unified approach to health & care. Using our technology and services, you'll be able to:

1. Ensure access to comprehensive patient and client information
2. Maximise income, control costs and improve operational efficiencies
3. Accelerate your digital health maturity.

1. Enhanced access to comprehensive patient and client information

Increasing and changing demand for patient and client care puts your front-line personnel under pressure. They need access to information about the people they're caring for at the point of care, to enable assured decisions and positive actions.

Our solutions provide ready access to comprehensive patient or client information to support clinical and care processes, such as prescribing practices all along the care pathway. They make life easier for mobile workers too, by putting all the information they need in the palm of their hand during home visits, or anywhere else they interact with a patient or client.

Upgrading to the latest version of Civica's Paris ePR solution enabled Vancouver Coastal Health to introduce an integrated care plan.

"The vision is to support really seamless care across community, primary, even acute and ambulatory... We want to support continuity of care, including effective discharge planning and decision-making in the acute sector."

Betty Da Silva

Executive Director, Regional Care Solutions, IMITS, Provincial Health Service Authority

2. Maximising income, controlling costs and improving operational efficiencies

We offer critical software and digital solutions that will give you a complete view of your organisation's finances, to help you make informed management decisions that support efficient delivery of care services. You'll gain the insight you need to track the financial consequences of every decision and action, control expenditure, balance budgets, process payments efficiently and make assured contract decisions.

And because we understand the financial pressures health & care organisations are under, we offer relevant, flexible commercial models that lower the cost of ownership and help you maximise the return on your investment.

"We know we can rely on the quality costed data from Civica SLAM to comprehensively manage our activity against plan and ensure we stay in complete control of our contract income."

Craig Grieve

Finance System Manager, Royal Devon and Exeter Foundation Trust

3. Accelerating your digital maturity

We'll support your digital health agenda with solutions and expertise to help you meet targets for reduced reliance on paper.

Our solutions enable you to deliver a range of transformational efficiencies in your organisation, such as mobile working, improved information sharing among teams and partners, more integrated care plans, and deeper insight from your data.

Using our digital health solutions helps King's College Hospital NHS Foundation Trust make faster decisions and improve patient care, while saving £700,000 over 2 years.

services

Business-critical software

Civica's clinical software helps you to deliver effective high-quality care for patients and clients, whilst our financial software helps manage your organisation's operations, workforce and finances.

Our software solutions, described on the next page, can be run in-house, or we can deliver and manage them for you from our secure cloud platform. As well as being customisable to meet your exact needs, they can be integrated with each other, and with other systems your organisation already uses, to maximise interoperability and end-to-end digital working.

Digital solutions

Our digital solutions help health & care organisations provide consistent access to information and services, transform the patient and client experience, and rapidly improve operational efficiency.

Civica consultants work with you to create a roadmap for change that will underpin delivery of your digital health agenda. We apply insight, analytics and strategic thinking to application design, development and support, to deliver the best outcomes for your organisation, your people, and the patients and clients in your care.
