

Learning Management System

Provide your organisation with elevated digital learning and support their professional development

Agylia can integrate into your existing LMS, HR, and Talent systems to provide a fully branded responsive learner portal. Introduce your team to the latest learning experiences, mobile learning, microlearning, social learning, and gamification. Empower your audience on-the-go with native mobile learning Apps compatible with iOS and Android Devices.

Manage and deliver compliance, induction, leadership, cybersecurity, and other digital learning programmes with Agylia. Build the knowledge in your organisation.

Deliver the content to be effective for your business as single or blended learning programmes. Increase engagement and staff participation with short microlearning courses that only require minutes of their day.

Use Agylia to serve people outside your organisation, including customers, partners, distributors, resellers, suppliers, and students, with modern, attractive, and engaging learning experiences. Eliminate the need for external audiences to access your internal LMS by using a platform custom created for diverse audiences.

Increase knowledge and skill levels with compliance and certification options and ensure your team is up-to-date with the latest industry regulations and requirements.

Why choose Agylia:

Intuitive user experience and highly configurable digital learning content.

Support risk management and compliance with streamlined integration to essential business systems.

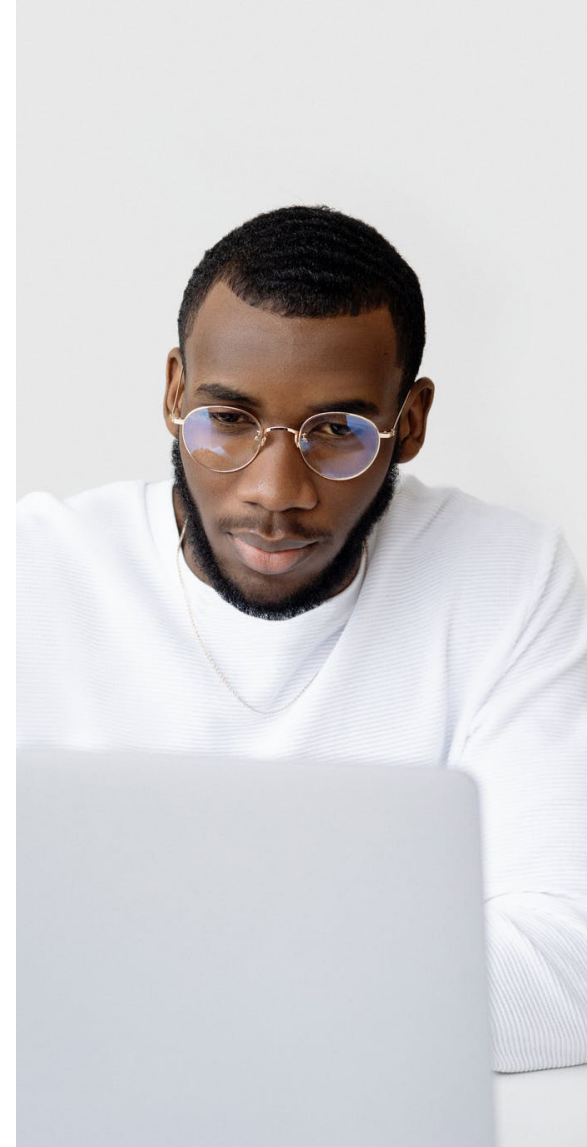

Blended learning delivery customised for your organisation and extended enterprise opportunities.

Key features:

- An LMS and Apps that look and feel like your brand.

"Our new digital learning approach is enabling us to onboard new staff and volunteers quickly, meaning they can begin to support young people quickly too. We are also able to deliver ongoing learning programmes – sharing content, insights and techniques – to develop our people's knowledge and understanding of the challenges young people have and come with."

Kim Callesen, Centre Manager at headspace Aabenraa, Denmark
