

Extended Enterprise

Reach and support external audiences with digital learning

Serve people outside your organisation, including customers, partners, distributors, resellers, suppliers, and students, with modern, attractive, and engaging learning experiences. Eliminate the need for external audiences to access your internal LMS to ensure the security of your data.

Provide new employees access to relevant content from any device without providing immediate access to all systems or a company email. New starters can use a personal email address to access the Agylia LMS and Apps. Once they are added to your IT systems, their profile can easily be updated, ensuring a complete learning history record.

Deliver a wide range of learning and CPD content – including eLearning courses, digital libraries, videos, and podcasts, in addition to PDF and Office documents – that's all accessible via the Agylia portal and Apps.

The fully integrated Agylia LMS and CPD platform are also valuable in enabling membership bodies, institutions, and associations to support members with modern digital learning, blended learning, and CPD experiences.

Why choose Agylia:

Intuitive user experience and highly configurable digital learning content.

Support risk management and compliance with streamlined integration to essential business systems.

Blended learning delivery customised for your organisation and extended enterprise opportunities.

Key features:

- An LMS and Apps that look and feel like your brand.

- Gamification for fun, challenging, engaging and effective learning.
- Multilingual configuration for learners
- Class-leading security to protect your data.
- True Cloud solution for massive scalability with a global content delivery network.

"Pharmacists play a vital role in supporting their community and educating the public on a wide range of health topics, including meningitis. Training pharmacists at their pharmacies is costly and time consuming - as a not-for-profit organisation, that is not an option for us."
